The Answer Lies Within: A Journey Through Loss

I would like to personally invite you to a wonderful seminar on August 16th in Newport Beach where I will be one of the featured speakers.

Denise Snyder has been one of my clients for 4 years and has asked me to speak along with two other health professionals she credits for assisting her in the long and difficult journey back to health and well-being. In ways, we are all working to recover from the devastation of losing someone or something in our lives.

The event will provide you with specific tools to use in a wide variety of life's challenges, losses and traumas. This is going to be a spectacular day! I hope to see you there. For more information please see the attached flyer.

Healing Grief: Testimonials

Dear Tim,

I just wanted to say hello and thank you for Saturday. Your message conveyed to me from my Son, Dad, Grandfather, Grandmother, Step-father and Father-in-law were most heartwarming. I shall treasure this day forever and most especially the message from Bryan.

It's funny, how we anticipate and create expectations within ourselves, only to find out that's not the way it necessarily works out - it's not supposed to. The reading was just as God wanted it to be and it was exactly what I really needed to hear. I've worried so much about Bryan, prayed that he is OK and happy and free of pain and felt as if I didn't do a good job as his mother and let him down. Hearing from Bryan's spirit gave me such a sense of value and his love for me as his mother. I thank you from the bottom of my heart.

I hope this is not inappropriate to say these things to you after a reading, but I just wanted you to know how I felt... Bless spirit and thank you Tim.

—Love Barbara

I want to recommend to anyone who has never had a reading or anyone who has had many, to sit with Tim Braun. I found that days, weeks and even months after my reading, certain signs and messages he gave continued to give me comfort and guidance and clarity.

Tim was such a blessing in my life at a critical time.

-Patti

My husband & I each came in for readings, on different occasions, I found Tim warm and supportive, bringing forth messages that were much needed & appreciated at the times we came to see him. I have recommended him to some friends in need.

My, previously skeptical, husband is now a believer and has enthusiastically delivered the messages he was instructed to deliver to his various family members. We will, without question, be back.

—Linda

Mediterranean Cruise

A cruise with Tim Braun is still in the works for 2009 or 2010. Contact Donna Repp: drepp8@hotmail.com with "Tim's Cruise" in the subject line.

At birth, we were all born with the same psychic sense. Some people put theirs to use while others block it out. However, this sense is still there, has always been there, and is still with you at this very moment. Just because you haven't used it doesn't mean that you've lost it. At any given time, it can be brought to the surface, and may begin to work for you immediately.

Since childhood, Tim has kept his psychic senses open. He has helped many people to heal from their grief of losing a loved one by using his ability to make contact with them. If you desire to re-open your own natural psychic abilities you can go to Tim's website for more information on people who offer classes, just click on "links" for a list of people who can help put you in the right direction.
